Troop movements ordered by General Funston were being carried out today, but probably none of the 2,300 men he had planned to give General Pershing will be sent further than Pershing will be sent further than Pershing will be sent further than Columbus to almost four hundred miles from the border. The mobile cavalry detachment that has been scouring the district beyond Satevo are in easy communication with the main column and will hold their positions for the present.

Country is Destitute.

Frightful destitution of the country inrough which American troops have been operating south of Casas Grandes was pictured in a long report received by General Pershing. The report was written at Satevo before General Perships had learned the details of the 5ght at Parral April 12. Accept News of Death. El Paso, April 20.—The growing belief that Francisco Villa is dead, whether or not his body has been recovered, was strengthened today by messages received by American mining concerns here from their agents at Cusihuirlachic, Farral, Santa Barbara and Guerrero. All these messages agreed that the report of Villa's death was common among the peons in northern Chihuahua and was generally accepted as true.

Four Companies of State Guard Enforce Quiet at Hastings-on-

Hastings On the Hudson, New York, April 20.—With four companies of state militia in control of this village today the strike situation involving employes of the Natonal Conduit and Cable company was quiet except for one minor disturbance, when two foreigners attempted unsuccessfully to disarm a trooper.

Two strikers are in a hospital. A dozen men characterizing the trooper as a "tin soldier" told him they were about to take away his gun and bayonette. Two rushed forward and the militiaman whacked one on the skull, with the gun and thrust his bayonet through the fiesh part of the other's shoulder. Their companions disbursed. Neither of the two was seriously wounded.

Former Revenue Collector at El Paso Attempts Double Murder After Quarrel With Daughter, [BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Binghampton, N. Y., April 20.—Alfred L. Sharp, for several years previous to coming to this city collector of customs at El Paso, Texas, is dead and his eighteen year old daughter, Holland, is in a hospital today seriously wounded, following a quarrel last night between father and daughter, which ended when Sharp seized a revolver and after shooting the girl twice in the back, sent a bullet through his own heart. The girl has a chance to recover, doctors say. Money matters are said to have led to the shooting.

Former Texas Lawmaker.

E! Paso, April 20.—A. L. Sharpe, former collector of customs at E! Paso, who shot his daughter and later killed himself over money matters, in a hotel at Binghampton, N. Y., last night, was a member of the Texas legislature in 1906 and 1908 from E! Paso County and the only republican ever elected from his district. He was the sponsor of a bill which prohibited gambling in Texas.

Crisis With Germany,

Washington, April 20.—"The president's message of Wednesday is a complete repudiation of the letter of the president and Secretary Lansing of Jan. 18 to the belligerent nations." said Representative Cooper of Wisconsin, ranking republican on the house committee on foreign affairs on Wednesday. "In that letter our government used the following language: "In proposing this formula as a basis of conditional declarations by the belligerent government I do so in the full conviction that each government will consider primarily the humane purpose of saving the lives of imnocent people rather than the insistence upon doubtful legal right, which may be denied on account of new conditions."

Jesus has falled, and no one ever truly saw him who did not really seek to see him.

What sort of a Christ did they see, these Greeks?

First of all a Christ who was willing to lay down his life that others might live. A strange law but universal that life comes through death, the giving up of life. "Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die it abideth alone." If any man would save his life in the eternal life, let him give it in this world, give it in service and self-sacrifice.

When they saw Jesus they saw one whom really to see is to follow. The disciples saw him and left all to follow him. The woman at the well saw him and became an evangelist to her companions in sin. Saul the persecutor saw him and became Paul the missionary. Doubting Thomas saw him and said "My Lord and my God."

They saw a Christ of love. How ho loved: No tongue can tell it. I am wondering tonight what you mothers would do if your daughters should say to you tonight "Mother, we would see Jesus." Could you point them step by step to this Lamb of God that taketh-away the sin of the world? Could you open his book and flud his portrait and hold it before them until they should see him and be like him?

You went down into the valley of the shadow once that your daughters might have life, really gave of your life that they might live. I wonder if you have sacrificed half as much that they might live? I wonder if you have sacrificed half as much that they might have evernal life?

There never was a moment when your joy was quite so deep as when your joy was the soverity of her home life, and how her father came to the Kirk Session and moved that her name be stricken from the roll, and how little by little the grief of it all was eating out his heart, although in his severe!

Low Price Loses out Against Low Cost

PRICE may sell some things to farmers, but price alone is a poor argument compared with the records for low cost of operation made by Mogul kerosene engines.

Because they run on kerosene, Mogul engines produce farm power at the lowest possible cost.

You know what gasoline costs. You know, too, what kerosene costs. Take the difference - multiply it by the number of gallons of fuel an engine will consume in five years, figuring one pint of fuel per horse power per hour.

At what price must you buy a gasoline engine to make it cost you as little as a Mogui does? Could you afford to accept a gasoline engine as a gift? See the dealer about this. He has the figures all worked out for you on all sizes of Mogul engines from 1 to 50 H. P.

JEFFRIS AND WHITEHEAD ARE FAVORITES AS CONSERVA TIVE REPUBLICAN SEN-ATORIAL NOMINEE.

AGAINST LA FOLLETTE

Choice of Convention Next Wednesday Will Oppose Senior Senator, Whose Hold on State Has Been Seriously Weakened.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison, Wis., April 20.—When the republican senatorial convention is called to order in the assembly chamber on April 26 there will be no cut and dried program.

That much is assured by the interest taken in the meeting throughout the state among republicans and the number of candidates whose names may be presented to the convention.

Five Names Mentioned.

Five names have been mentioned during the last week, each having support, not all of the men named being avowed candidates, however. M. G. Jeffris of Janesville and Senator John M. Whitehead of the same city are receptive candidates. Both are ready to make a hard campaign should they be chosen to make the race against Senator La Follette. Senator Hudnall of Superior has been mentioned for several months, but close friends say he will not make a fight for the nomination, but would prefer to come here and help nominate another man and then give him loyal support during, the campaign.

S. A. Cook of Neenah, mentioned since the delegate contest, has not said he is a candidate but like Senator Hudnall, probably would prefer ito work in the interest of the nomination of some other man. George Hixon of La Crosse is another man who has been mentioned.

Mr. Jeffris has many friends and they will come to Madison ready to your appricate the honor if it is given him and is ready to enter into a speaking campaign to cover the state. He enters the convention entirely in a friendly spirit, and will be just as ready to work for the success of Senator Whitehead Supporters.

Senator Whitehead Supporters.

Senator Whitehead Supporters.

Senator Whitehead Supporters.

Senator Whitehead Supporters, senator Whitehead has many friends who are urging his nomination. It is more than likely that he will develop strength in the northern part of the state which may prove a surprpise. From reports from all over the state in appears that the convention may nominate either man.

One of the amusing situations of the last week in the state has been the effort of the radical press to convin dle west, in no other state did their combined vote lead that given a favorite son.

La Feliette's Strength Less.

Another fact which the radical newspapers have not stated is that Senator La Follette received nearly 30,000 votes this year less than he received four years ago, and that Governor Philipp, although he was not a candidate for president and did not, therefore, have the advantage of so prominent a place on the ballot, received nearly 30,000 more votes than the senator's opponent four years ago. The fact that Governor Philipp carried many former progressive counties and that Senator La Follette's vote fell off in every county in the state also is note stated. The further fact that although Senator La Follette will go to the national convention with a bare majority of the Wisconsin delegates, he got that majority by making a trade with the Milwaukee socialists, a fact that cannot be denied on the Milwaukee county returns, does not state.

AMERICAN S NOW PRAISED

AMERICAN IS NOW PRAISED FOR AIDING WAR PRISONERS.

[BY-ASSOCIATED FRESS.]

Zurich, Switzerland, April. 20.—After publishing many joking stories of the efforts of George L. Lorrillard, the recently appointed American Charge d'Affaires to Serbia, to find the Court to which he was accredited, the Viennese newspapers are now praising his zealous activities in aiding Austrian and Hungarian prisoners of war in Albania.

According to the latest reports, Mr. Lorrillard found 500 of these prisoners at Scutari and another 600 at Alessia. After satisfying himself that they were in good hands, Mr. Lorrillard gave the Albanian familles sheltering the men out of pure charity, a generous recompense. At Alessio he bought up all-the fish and bread in the town and personally distributed it.

the town and personally distributed it.

Ambassador Penfield's untiring labors in the interests of the Austrians and Hungarians scattered abroad are also thankfully acknowledged by the Vienna press. Between the end of July, 1914, and the 31st of December last, the Embassy in Vienna had received 11,710 letters from these unfortunately situated persons, and despatched, 10,020 to them. oAltogether the Embassy had handled in this period 59,040 letters, of which 17,280 belonged to American citizens, or 4,000 less than those of Austrians and Hungarians. The remaining 20,030 letters belonged to Belgians, French, English, Italians and Japanese, all of whose interests are under the protection of the American Embassy.

SAVE THE REFUSE FROM FISH CANNING TO BE USED AS FERTILIZER ON FARMS

AS FERTILIZER ON FARMS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Washington, April 20.—Waste of possible fertilizer and fish oil material in connection with fish canning operations on the Pacific coast is estimated by Department of Agriculture experts to amount to at least a million and a quarter dollars every year. In the salmon-canning industry investigation has shown that about 30 per cent-on the average of the material as it comes to the factory is unaulted for canning and it is discarded as well as it comes to the factory is unaulted for canning and it is discarded as well as large quantities of fish of other species caught with the salmon. To a great extent this material is now wasted. On the Atlantic coast an industry of considerable proportion has developed in the production of fish scrap for fertilizer purposes.

Will Leave Position This Week.

Madison, Wis., April 20.—Upwards of forty decisions of the railroad commission have been completed in the past few days. This has been necessificated by reason of the fact that Chairman Halford Erickson is to leave the commission this week. Erickson planned a meeting with Gov. Philipp this afternoon for the formal lending of the resignation. The governor has known) however, for some time that the resignation was to be presented and, it is said; suggested that if there was some delay it might give a better opportunity to look the field over. As practically all of the decisions of the commission were signed today. Commissioner Erickson arranged for an interview with the governor this afternoon. At least a score of people have been mentioned as probably available for the position.

After fooling for four years with Mexico. After suffering all sorts of humiliation from our sister republic. After knowing that hundreds of good red-blooded American citizens have been wantonly murdered by arms and ammunition permitted to be shipped across the border by order of the president, Germany is picked on.

With a punitive expedition at present inside the Mexican line, surrounded by Mexican bandits, threatened with death, the flag insulted and gralled in the dust, Germany is to feel

If citizens of the United States, for their own or personal business reasons, or for more curiosity travel on ships owned by belligerent nations and lose their lives, why should the United States go to war? Why should Germany be singled out when Mexico is right at our doors and needs one of the best spankings that an irriscable youngster ever received from a kind, paternal uncle, and is permitted to continue its outrages unpunished?

We are a peaceful nation at heart and we do not seek war with anyone.

and we do not seek war with anyone. We are not walking about with a chip on our shoulder, but "Gee Whillikers" if any nation slaps us in the face, look out! That is just what is coming to us. The answer Germany will send back will be both short and direct and then—the Harvest.

WHO'S THE GOAT?

"General" Carranza is playing horse with Mr. Wilson, precisely as he has always done. Mr. Wilson gave his solemn assurance to the A B C mediators, two years ago, that if the would agree upon the second ators, two years ago, that if they would agree upon a plan for a provisional government of Mexico which appealed to him (President Wilson) as just, he would guarantee that Carran-za would accept it. The mediators de-vised such a plan, procured the ap-proval of the Huertistas and that of Mr. Wilson, but Carranza did no such just, he would guarantee that Carranza would accept it. The mediators devised such a plan, procured the approval of the Huertistas and that of Mr. Wilson, but Carranza did no such thing. A year later President Wilson invited the Mexican chiefs to meet in a conference to choose a president of Mexico. Carranza refused to participate in such a conference and invited Mr. Wilson to mind his own business. And for a brief time, Mr. Wilson did. Then President Wilson called togethmer certain South American diplomats and invited them to join the United States in recognizing Carranza as States in recognizing Carranza as president, with certain pledges from the old bandit as to religious liberty, freedom from looting, etc. The South Americans agreed. Carranza accepted the recognizion and tossed the proposed pledges into the waste basket. Having recognized Carranza, lent him all the moral support possible and even tried to induce American bankers to finance him. President Wilson ers to finance him, President Wilson has now been forced to take steps to drive Carranza's rival, Villa, from the field. And once more Carranza is laughing at Mr. Wilson refusing to let him use the Mexican railroads and putting every obstacle he can, short of actual force, in the way of the accomplishment of his avowed purpose. Some Americans are a little sensitive at being thus humiliated, but evident ly Carranza's slights and sneers slide easily off the White House back.

THE ELEPHANT,

The return of a presidential cam-piagn has incited much curiosity as to the origin of the elephant as the emblem of the republican party, an origin which has been forgotten by most of the present generation. The elephant was first used to signify the republican party by Thomas Nast, the famous cartoonist, in November, 1874, In a cartoon labelled "An ass, having put on the lion's skin, roamed about in the forest and amused himself by frightening all the foolish animals he met with in his wanderings." The "ass" referred, to was a New York newspaper, while the democracy was represented as a fox, lurking in the underbrush and contemplating, with apparent pleasure, the foreshadowed underbrush and contemplating, with apparent pleasure, the foreshadowed plunge of the elephant into an abyssentitled "Southern Claims Chaos." Various other newspapers were repre- инпиниринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприниципринициприницип

HOLY WEEK OBSERVANCES. Formerly Holy Week was little no-ticed outside of the Roman Catholic and Episcopal churches. Other religious bodies were fearful of anniversraies and occasions, which seemed to them contrary to the simplicity of their faith.

Now there are few churches that do not observe this occasion. It serves its purpose, in bringing closer to the world the personality of Jesus. As his words and acts for the last fateful seven days are studied, he ceases to be a mere historical charac-ter. He becomes the representative of divinity, the herald of a new day of faith and enlightenment and hope, with some personal message for every

The power of any message is measared by the time it endures and the force that it exerts. The grand words of Plato and Socrates are still read, but only by the few. In the public libraries they gather dust on the back shelves. Meanwhile the words of Jesus are in every home and are proclaimed every Sunday. A life having such vital power must be the greatest force in the modern world.

This world, the next, and then the fireworks, is an old saying, but this time the fireworks come on Fourth of time the fireworks come on Fourtn or July night when the old fashioned torchlight parade gets into swing with bands playing and small boys yelling just like their daddies and granddaddies did when they yelled, "Blaine! Blaine! The man "Blaine! Blaine! Blaine! The man from Maine!" or shouted themselves hoarse for Cleveland, "Poor Old Gro-ver!" Remember those days?

The rest room problem is one not to be forgotten or spoken of lightly. It is a necessity. It is indeed unfortunate that the old Corn Exchange plot could not be utilized for this purpose. Is there no way to remedy the legal difficulties? When a man who steals a bank or a railroad can escape punishment by clever manipulations of the lawyers why not exert some of this talent to obtain the authority to build the needed building?

Milwaukee has its socialist mayor. Well, there was more than the question of socialism behind his election when you sum it all up. Some of those brewerles lost their licenses because of the cabaret law and also the amendment to the Baker law. It all figures up when the votes are counted, but such tactics will make Wisconsin a dry state sooner than anything else.

"After several excited conferences with our political advisers and former cohorts, in which we were reduced to the necessity of mauling some of them seriously, if not fatally, we are able to state that we will again be a candidate—at the earnest solicitation of our friends—for associate justice of the supreme court of Lyons township, county of Ionia State of Michigan, U. Where The Men Go The Boys Will Go

You men of Janesville-Where are your boys going if they are following after you?

The responsibility for your sons can not be shirked. It rests with you what becomes of your boys. You do not dare say, "I don't care."

Bring the sons with you tonight to the Lenten Meetings at the Congregational Church at 7:30 sharp.

This is Fathers' and Sons' Night at the meetings and a special section has been reserved for you. If you have never been to these meetings your neighbor will tell you that nothing is done to embarrass you, no matter what your belief.

Bring your wives, mothers, sisters and the other women of the household for there will be two sections for them. But come without fail tonight. You will hear a sermon that will hold your interest until the finish. You will hear the best chorus Janesville ever produced or imported.

Do not forget that this is Holy Week and that tomorrow, Friday, is the anniversary of Christ's death for us on the cross.

Reasons Why You Should Use a Refrigerator

In the first place, what is a refrigerator?

The Standard Dictionary says: "That which makes or keeps cold; specifically, a box or chamber arranged so as to protect its contents from the external heat, and by means of air cooled by ice, usually in a separate compartment, to keep them at a temperature near the freezing point. Called ice, box, ice chest, ice safe, ice closet.

JUST STOP AND CONSIDER ALL THE LAWS AND ORDINANCES, NATIONAL, state and municipal, that have been drafted and passed after careful deliberation in the past few years for the care and preservation of all kinds of food products. The manufacturer and producer are today compelled by law to use the maximum caution in the handling of everything in the food line.

WHY LOSE ALL THE GOOD EFFECTS GAINED THROUGH MANUFACTURERS and producers in the careless handling and prreservation of various articles of food in the home at the last and most important step? The small cost of an ice box is nothing compared to the health of the whole family. Think it over, by distures, will be heard at the Apollo theater, the club having engaged the playhouse following the first performance.

All interested in wild animals and readers of magazines and of the Chicago papers have more or less of an acquaintance with Cy De Vry, head of the Lincoln park zoo. He will be the speaker of the evening. Cy De Vry is speaker of the evening. Cy De Vry is gauge of the mighty monarchs of the lungles, lions, tigers, leopards, byenas and of all the groups of tropical and other animals found in the zoological gardens of the world.

Cy's big families of monkeys in the great animal house at Lincoln park would feel lonesome and lost without their friend, who seems to know and understand them and who is always their good friend in health or sickness. If the big monkey reases them and otherwise annoys them, they know who is their friend and do not fail to make use of him to take their part.

Mr. De Vry's duties are multitudinals. He is doctor, dentist and adviser, for wild animals like humans get sick and must take medicine, and have poor teeth which must be extracted or fixed. There is a hospital for those which need attention and Dr. De Vry is the director and chief operator.

This entertainment will be given complimentary to the members of the Goodlellowship club, to the members and their families and friends. Admission will be by ticket only. Persons desiring to go are urged by club members to look up a member of the organization and make known their and the desire. A tleket will be fortherwise.

The youth decided he wanted to strike out for himself and consequently he departed from his home and fireside to make his own living. It is suid he came to Milton Junction and applied to farmers and road construction crews for work. He is also reported to have planned to come to Janesville. Police and county authorities are looking for young Basket as a telegram received by Chief Champion from Nicholas Hunt, chief of detectives of Chicago, stated that the boy's mother wished him to return home.

Some Railroad Firsts.

The Erle railroad, the first great east and west trunk line, is credited with many of the "first things" done by railroads in this country. It was the first railroad in the world to dispatch its trains by telegraph; ran the first emigrant train over the rails, also the first cattle train and the first milk train; was the first railroad in the world to use a bell cord. The first excursion train in the United States was run over the Eric from Goshen, N. Y., to New York city, July 4, 1842. The The Erle railroad, the first great east to New York city, July 4, 1842. The first experiment ever made with sleeping cars was made by the Erie, the company building two-the Eric and the Ontario-in 1843. They preceded the Pullmans.-Argonaut.

He turned to the telephone. Spike and Helen had reached the rooms at the hotel when Helen heard the ring of the telephone. She answered the call. Listening, dumfounded, she did not tell Spike what she heard, but with her face somewhat blanched and Rhinelander's words ringing in her ears, she hung up the receiver. "Get the stock from the safety deposit box," he had directed, "and I will use that as temporary security until I can replace the money.

Seagrue shook his Lead. "No. Mr. Rhinelander," he said slowly, "that won't do. I must have legal tender, and have it today, or our contract doesn't go."

Helen, with Spike as her escort, reached the bank only to find it closed as she had feared. The watchman, despite her appeals, refused them admittance. But a little obstacle such as that was not a serious deterrent to Spike. He had defled the interests of justice and fair play. He had been a malefactor with the law against him; he brushed aside all scruples now in taking the role of a benefactor with the law still against of the plight she and Spike were in. him. The watchman had his way, "If the case is as bad as you say," Spike muttered to Helen, "we've got to do something."

Helen shook her head despairingly. "It may mean millions, Spike," she ex-claimed. "What can we do?" In her distress she clasped her hands.

"Do," echoed Spike scornfully, "Go in and open the box and get your property-there's nothing else to do.' "But how?" cried Helen, wide-eyed with perplexity.

Spike tossed his head. It was set high above a pair of swinging broad shoulders, and whenever Spike shook his head in that way, Helen knew some suggestion was coming. He bent forward and pointed his finger at her to emphasize his words. "You put the stock in the box, didn't you?" She nodded a half-frightened assent. "That," he continued stiffly, "was your business. Now, you want to get it out, don't you?" She nodded once "That," he declared with much positiveness, "is my business."

A moment later, at the side of the bank. Helen, frightened to death, followed Spike through an unguarded door. He led the way hastily and to get me out of a box!" The watch-stealthily to the vault, and Helen, with man stared. "So"—Rhinelander turned her key, opened Rhinclander's box. called out the men and they started on the jump for the bank.

Helen, in the interval, had taken the securities from the box and showed them to Spike. As they turned to leave, the watchman, re-enforced by leave, the watchman, re-enforced by the officers, pounced down on them. Helen, desperate over the situation, upbraided the watchman.

A wordy discussion followed. But Helen and Spike were started for the station, where more developments had already taken place. The victim of the hold-up, in response to the sergeant's message, had arrived, and on having the suspects, Ward and Adams, paraded before him, was unable to identify Seagrue's retainers. In-fact, he distinctly declared these were not the many that had eaten all his free.

Not the least considered item of expense in staging the fifteen of expense for in staging the fifteen of sta geant's message, had arrived, and the having the suspects, Ward and Adams, paraded before him, was unable to identify Seagrue's retainers. and, if not answering to one charge, should justly be held to await another. While this was going on in the office of the chief, Helen and Spike were ushered, with the complaining watchman, into the booking room. Helen demanded the use of the telephone, and in spite of the serious charge lodged against her something in her. bright eyes or her demeanor satisfied the sergeant she was no criminal, and he handed her the phone from his law too long to be balked now in the desk. She called Rhinelander up at Seagrue's rooms.

No explanation that Helen and Spike could make moved the desk sergeant in any degree. He had directed the officers to take the two to separate cells when a commotion was beard in the hallway and Rhinelander dashed into the room. In the twinkling of an eye the aspect of everything changed. In Rhinelander, the conscientious watchman recognized the president of his own safe deposit company, and when the great transportation magnate rushed up to Holen to extend his sympathy and nodded, as an old acquaintance, to Spike, the humble watch dog of the safe deposit vault gasped. He walted just a minute, and in an auspicious lull in the conversation between Rhinelander and Helen, Spike standing at attention, the watchman pushed into the group to ask whether he had made a mistake.

"No mistake at all," said Rhinelander heartily and reassuringly, and to the watchman's great relief. exactly right. You didn't know these people. They had no business in there. But they were there not only to get my securities out of a box, but somebody and it might as well be me

INCREASING IN WISCONSIN.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison, Wis., April 20.—There are at least 150,000 colonies of bees in Wisconsin and the annual honey production in the state probably exceeds 3,000,000 pounds, according to a bulletin issued today by the agricultural experiment station on the industry in the state. The bulletin was written by N. E. France, state apiary inspector and his son L. G. France, instructor in bee keeping at the University of Minnesota.

The industry was first started in the state on a comparatively large scale in 1887 when Adam Grimm of Jefferson brought twenty Italian queens to Wisconsin, all that remained of a shipment of one hundred from Europe.

"For the amount of money invested and labor involved bee keeping gives as much or more profit than any other acricultural pursuit," says the bulletin.

It is predicted that beekeeping will as much of more profit than any other acticultural pursuit," says the bulletin.

It is predicted that beekeeping will become one of the most important minor acticultural pursuits in the state within the next quarter of a century. The beekeeping industry in Wisconsin is compared to the dairy business of twenty-five years ago as still being in an undeveloped stage.

"Future Wisconsin beekeeping can easily be expected to produce many tons of the best grades of honey," it is stated. "A pound of honey is about equal in food value to a pound of sirloin steak and it is going to waste for lack of enough bees to mather it. As general farming, stock farming, dairying, and horticulture advance in all parts of the state beekeeping will develop accordingly and assume its proper place among the agricultural industries.

Tabulation of the first random hundred bachelors over thirty shows fairly representative conditions, as follows:

Twenty-two of them are afflicted with a communicable disease, and it would mean a calamity for such a man would mean a calamity for such a man self-restraint and releases a man's primitive impulses, removes his ordinarily cautious judgment and leads him to excesses he would never commit in a perfectly sober moment. Nor must p man become frankly intoxicated to lose his self-control; it only takes a social glass or two to cut through the veneer. So these thirty-five occasional drinkers are to be classed as undesirable husbands. We will leave them to their selfish lives.

The remaining forty-three bachelors size up like this: Eighteen of them are ecourting girls, have been courting the are too selfish. The remaining twenty-five bachelors are "men about town." They have no fixed associates other than the hangers-on at the club pool-room, bowling alley or street corner. They are on extraordinarity familiar terms with the class of girls who seem to enjoy being insulted by familiarities of young men in public. They don't meet girls who inspire respect. The girls they know so well are the kind who patronize public dances, theaters and such places with out responsible escort. In short, these twenty-five bachelors have no incentive to marriage. So for, they find "variety the spice of life" and it will be quite a while yet before they discover that too much spice spoils the joy of living.

Hair of the Dog.
One of your articles alluded to the influence of certain animal emanations upon persons subject to spasmodic or bronchial asthma. I never have an attack unless I visit my husband's mother's home, where there are two dogs. Sometimes I am in the house only a few minutes when the attack comes on. The house is but a few miles from our home. Do you think it possible that the attack is in my case produced by inhaling or emanations from the bodies of these dogs?
Answer—Very likely. Some Individuals suffer an attack if they ride after a horse, or enter a stable. Others suffer if a cat enters the room. Many victims have attacks if they eat certain proteins—certain shell-fish, eggs, cheese. In other cases the foreign protein is produced within the body, in some bidden or neglected septic focus, by bacteria. In any case, the problem is, find the protein to which the patient is sensitive, and immunize the patient sagainst that protein by a prolonged series of minute injections—a hair of the dog that bites you. But the corridor door had opened and closed and Brouiliard was gone, Two hours later Mirapolis the phrenetic had a new thrill, a shock so electrifying that the rumor of the railroad's halting decision sank into insignificance and was forgotten. The sud-denly-evoked excitement focussed in a crowd besieging the window of the principal jewelry shop-focussed more definitely upon a square of white pa-per in the window in the center of which was displayed a little heap of virgin gold in small nuggets and coarse While the crowds in the street were still struggling and fighting to get near enough to read the labeling placard, the Daily Spotlight came out with an extra which was all headlines, the telegraph wires to the East were buzzing, and the town had gone mad. The gold specimen—so said the plaand the news extra-had been washed from one of the bars in the Niguoia.

By three o'clock the madness had ulminated in the complete stoppage of all work among the town builders and on the great dam as well, and gold-crazed mobe were frantically digging and panning on every bar in the river from the valley outlet to the power dam five miles away.

CHAPTER XI Bedlam

It was between two and three o'clock in the afternoon of the day in which Mirapolis went placer mad when word came to the reclamation service headquarters that the power was cut off and that there were no longer men enough at the mixers and on the forms to keep the work going if the power should come on again. Handley, the new fourth assistant, brought the news, dropping beavily into a chair and shoving his hat to the back of his head to mop his neamed and sun-browned face.

"Why the devil didn't you feilows turn out?" he demanded savagely of Leshington, Anson and Grislow, who were lounging in the office and very pointedly waiting for the lightning to strike. "Gassman and I have done everything but commit cold-blooded"

One of the letters-a note in a square envelope-he had thrust into his pocket before going out.

Grislow came out of his brown study with a start. "Levy won't tell who gave him those nuggets to put in his window. I tried him. All he will say is that the man who left the sample is perfectly reliable and that he dictated the exact wording of the placard that did the business."

"I saw Harlan, of the Spotlight, half an hour ago," cut in Anson. "He's plumb raving crazy, like everybody else, but there is something faintly resembling method in his madness. He figures it that we government people are out of a job permanently; that with the discovery of these placers-

Have You Ever Analyzed Your Feelings on the Question of Piano Buying?

You would probably find by analyzing your thoughts and impressions on this matter that they can all be put into definite form as follows:

"I want a good, reputable piano or player-piano at a reasonable price"

This is the philosophy of Piano buying condensed:

To secure a good, reputable Piano or Player-Piano at a reasonable price.

Let us resolve this statement into its elements and thus solve the problem of buying a piano in the most intelligent and satisfactory way. This question should be determined as much as possible for one's self. That you can readily do by the following process:

You want a good Piano

This is the first element of the proposition. Your wish in this respect unquestionably can be fulfilled with the product of the World's Largest Music House. Lyon & Healy who enjoy that distinction make and warrant the Lyon & Healy pianos. Their reputation of pianos are low. As a matter of fact, not fifty-two years is at stake when they warrant their piano products without time limit.

In the second place, you desire a reputable Piano

A piano bearing the name of Lyon & Healy has by presumption a good reputation, for you will find that name on the best musical merchandise only.

Third and last, you desire a Piano at a reasonable price

A leading theory on which Lyon & Healy do business is quantity sales and small profits. For this reason, prices on Lyon & Healy another piano of the quality of the Lyon & Healy can be had at the same or similar price.

PRICES Lyon & Healy pianos are sold only at established prices which are current the country over and these prices are plainly marked on every piano. You may, therefore, feel absolute confidence that discrimination as to price will not be practiced against you. Besides, Lyon & Healy pianos are to be purchased on very convenient terms.

Special Sale is Now in Progress

SOX PLAY DETROIT: CUBS OPEN UP TODAY

Sox Are Beaten Yesterday by the Browns -- Both Boston Teams

Sox Are Beaten Yesterday by the Browns—Both Boston Teams
Ousted from the Lead.

The Chicago White Sox play the Detroit Tigers the first of a four game series in Detroit today. The strength of the Sox for the coming season will be indicated to a great degree on how they meet the Tiger attack at their home lair, even though they trimmed the Jennings clan three out of four at Chicago in the opening series.

On Wednesday the St. Louis Americans had an easy time beating the Sox 6 to 2, which evened up the fourgame series between them. Weilman mastered the Sox and but for a fourply drive by Hap Felsch, which scored one ahead of him, the Chicago team would have gone scoreless. Four hits were all that the Sox could garner off the St. Louis hurler. The Browns found Cicotte effective the first half of the round as they were trailing a two to one score. The Browns went into the lead in the sixth when they scored two, and Cicotte was replaced by Russell. In the eighth he was taken out and Scott trotted out in the ninth. He pitched seven balls and as he gave a pass and was giving another, he too was dragged off the pitchling mound and Wolfgang finished the game, after two runs had counted.

Eddie Collins was appointed captain of the White Sox yesterday and will direct the in and outfield in defensive play hereafter. The choice was anounced by Manager Rowland last might as the team was leaving for its invasion of Detroit. The distinction is not expected to produce any better work around second base, as Collins always gives a team his best, whether captain or private, but it is expected he will be able to steady the other men on the infield with the authority to direct them.

captain or private but it is expected he will be able to steady the other men on the infield with the authority to direct them.

Cubs Open Today.

The Chicago Cubs will have their grand opening at Weegham park this afternoon when they play the Circinnati Reds. No one except the weather man has the power to put the quietess on the baseball enthusiasm that is displayed by Cub rooters before the game. Hendrix will pitch for the Cubs and Toney for the Reds.

Boston Drops Lead.

Boston Drops Lead.

Boston Mass., April 20.—The champion Red Sox and Washington divided the Patriot day program today and as a result Boston was ousted from the league leadership. The Senators took the morning cambat, 3: to 2, bunching two singles with Williams' double in the fifth. In the ninth Barry tripled, but was nailed at the plate when a freeze play fizzled.

Lecourd, pitching his first game, helped Boston win the afternoon game; 2 to 0. Henriksen waiked, went to second on an out and scored on Barry's double.

WESTERN LEAGUE OPENS THEIR SCHEDULE TODAY

ISPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Des Moines, Ia., April 20.—The Western League's cluster of brown diamonds was all set and sparkling as the 1916 pennant race was begun before big crowds eager to see the Old Heads and the Recruits do battle in Western League cities today.

Frank C. Zehrung, the Lincoln theatrical man, who succeeds "Tip" O'Neill as head of the league, has renovated the umpiring staff and the handlers of the indicators are nearly all new men. Zehrung promises discipline for the players, snappy games for spectators and cleaner ball generally.

Charles B. Durborow, the Philadelphia bank cierk long distance swimmer, will endeavor to swim across the mouth of Chesapeake bay from Cape Henry to Fisherman's Island, a distance of over thirty miles, on June 24. He expects to start the test at 10:30 in the evening and finish up the following afternoon after swimming all night. He swims every day, no matter how cold it may be, in the Delaware river at Riverton N. J., a few miles above Philadelphia.

Fred Fulton.

New York, April 20.—Fred Fulton of Rochester, Minn., who has begun training here at the Pioneer Sporting club is impressing New York favorably. The 235-pound giant is liked personally and is galang many adherents who believe in his fistic ability.

Six feet five in his stocking feet and apparently not carrying any excess baggage, the newest claimant of the heavyweight title has all the carmarks of being "the goods." those who journey ug, to the Pioneer testify.

A big, raw-honed fellow, who has never done anything else but worth hard since he was eleven years of ags. Fulton has every type of the right sort of athlete "standing out" on him. and the best product. Fulton is Sebspeaks for him the rightful and answers all the specifications, which have been claimed for him. He is the type of athlete who, while conscious of his ability, is not possess of of the "big head," and profers han those who are prone to criticise will await seeing him in action before passing judgment on his ability.

That he's a good workman is attested by his possession of a union card of the Journeymen Plasterers' union, No. 472, which is so varued by him that the Topeka aggregation, greatly has strengthened the team.

Tom Fairweather, secretary of the Des Moines team will not see so much ball as usual this year, as he has been elected a councilman of Des Moines.

Hughey Jennings is enthusiastic over this year's American league race and he's fairly fond of his own ball club's chances in that scramble. Billy Sullivan probably has caused a large part of that enthusiasm. The old White Sox catcher has been in charge of the Detroit pitchers this spring and Jennings is mighty well pleased with the way his hurling staff looks right now. Flingers always have been the downfall of the Tigers in the past. But this year the team is going to have a handsome list of tossers. Jennings admits it.

President Thomas M. Chivington of the American Association predicts a higher class of playing this season than ever seen before on the major minor league circuit. He bases this expectation in part on the number of Federal league players developed by Schaffner & Marx Clothes. Alma Richards, the great all round athlete at Cornell university, had hard luck in his early efforts. During his athletic career Richards has sprained his left leg four times and his right leg twice. Once he broke some of the small bones in his right leg in an accident which also dislocated his wrists. The first time Richards tried the high jump he broke his left leg above the knee, and he then was advised to give up athletics. But Richards stuck to athletics and now ranks as one of the greatest in intercollegiate history.

the third league, but who had not be come seasoned for the majors and, in addition, were barred by the player limit rule in the major organizations which compels managers to keep their roster within bounds.

One of the recruit pitchers may be forced to work in regular turn with the veterans of the Detroit club this spring, if Manager Jennings maked good a threat he recently uttered, according to writers who have been traveling with the club. Dubuc and James, veterans, have not been able to do much work thus far and Jennings is said to have informed them that he would release them if they did not soon get into condition. Dubuc's pitching arm has been bothering him.

FARM PREPAREDNESS

National Agricultural Organiza-

Madison, Wis., April 20.—A farm preparedness move of continental scope was announced today in the formation of the National Agricultural Organization Society. This organization conference on marketing and farm credits that met in Chicago last winter, will form co-operative societies will include the sale of farm products, the purchase of farm supplies, co-operative implement rings and rural credit associations. The society will also investigate land tenure systems and conditions in America with a view to constructive measures for land reform.

This organization society will not do any of the things mentioned for the formers but will aid the farmers in doing such things for themselves. It will also furnish expert auditors, instructor in co-operation and legal advisers. It purposes to affiliate the farmers organizations now in existence and to federate them into strong defensive alliance.

The plan of work is modeled after the operations of similar organization sity of Illinois factulty is visiting his
